My dear Mr Garrison

In the life of Ed. N. Kirk, lately published there is a chapter speaking of him as a very decided Anti-Slavery man long before the war, and as having "entered the ranks of the Abolitionists" - after hearing Mr George Thomp-son, before 1837.

I should like to in-quire of you, whether this is correct. Did you regard him as an Abolitionist? Did he ever attend any of your meetings, or show any sympathy

with your cause?

Very Sincerely Yours
James Freeman Clarke
